

Family Fun Nights

The Parenting Enrichment Program is a coordinated effort of community agencies reaching out to families of Dare County.

Through sharing our knowledge and skills, Dare County can become a community where no one has to parent in isolation.

N.C. Cooperative Extension
Children & Youth Partnership for Dare County
Outer Banks YMCA
Dare County Department of Social Services
Dare County Department of Public Health
Dare County Schools

NC Division of Child Development (DCD)
approved Early Childhood Education workshops.

September 21, 2010

October 19, 2010

November 16, 2010

*Workshops presented by:
Parenting Enrichment Program
A Community Approach to Parenting*

Family Fun Nights

A free workshop series for parents and professionals

"Help! My Child Won't Listen"

Do you feel frustrated because your child won't listen? Do you have to repeat yourself several times before your child will do what you ask? You are not alone. Children are not born with the skill of listening, but can be taught. Come join us for this fun and informative workshop including:

- 9 Reasons Why Children Don't Listen
- 9 Effective Solutions to Encourage Children to Listen - the First Time!
- How to Teach Your Child to Listen
- Forms of Listening Parents Model
- 10 Ways to Model Better Listening

Presenter: Beth Tillett

Tuesday, September 21, 6:30 to 8:00pm

"Birds Fly, Fish Swim, and Children Play"

Child's play is more than just play; it is how children learn and it's essential to their development. This hands-on workshop will provide samples of different activities that enhance physical, language, social, and cognitive development among children. All participants will receive a "playbook" with games and resources for children 5 years and younger. Get Ready, Get Set, Let's Play!

Presenter: Sara Sampson

Tuesday, October 19, 6:30 to 8:00pm

"Embracing Diversity!"

This is an interactive and light-hearted presentation that focuses on how we view people that are different from us. Differences can be racial, ethnic, socio-economic, religious, etc. However, it's the array of differences that makes the United States so unique. We'll spend our time exploring those differences and looking internally to examine our own beliefs. This presentation takes a serious topic and explores it in a humorous way.

Presenter: L'Tanya Murray

Tuesday, November 16, 6:30 to 8:00pm

Come as a family to play and learn! Participate in these fun and interactive workshops at the Outer Banks YMCA in Nags Head free of charge (no membership is required).

Child care will be provided for a fee of $3 per child and they will enjoy an evening of crafts, games, and other fun activities. Workshops begin at 6:30pm, make sure to arrive early to get your children checked-in on time.

Registration will end the day before each workshop so call now to sign up for one or more of these events!

Register online at www.darekids.org or call Children & Youth Partnership for Dare County at 441-0614